§ WHY HALIAN / THIS ROLE

A national-scale consumer mobile application with millions of users in a regulated environment is precisely the kind of product where strategic clarity matters most: the cost of a wrong prioritisation is not a missed sprint, it is a missed quarter for millions of people. The posting explicitly names the gap between delivery capacity and product direction, delivery teams in place, leadership seat open, which is the configuration where a focused product leader creates the most leverage. The role calls for someone who has operated in fast-paced, ambiguous environments across healthcare, compliance, and digital platforms, and who can hold the long arc of a product vision while aligning engineering, operations, legal, and commercial stakeholders around it. I have done exactly that for defence AI programmes, public-sector analytics platforms, and a clinical mobile app. That is the environment where my strengths compound.

§ SIDE PROJECT

CONSTRUCT8 GITHUB.COM/HILBERTP →

A two-sided B2B construction-staffing marketplace built zero-to-one as a solo founder.

- Matches construction firms with workers directly, removing the headhunter layer from the hire.
 - Built an anonymity-until-payment model protecting both sides until commitment, with WhatsApp and Telegram as the primary product surface.
 - LLM agents handle end-to-end funnel automation, enabling one person to run day-to-day operations at scale.
 - Demonstrates the ability to define product vision, execute delivery, and instrument a conversion funnel in SQL, directly transferable to a consumer mobile product role.

§ HOW I WOULD WORK AT HALIAN / THIS ENGAGEMENT

First weeks, concrete.

WEEK 1

Listen, map, find the gaps.

Sit in on every delivery team's ceremonies and one-on-ones with engineering, design, data, operations, compliance, and commercial leads to map where the roadmap is genuinely owned versus where direction is drifting from stakeholder pressure.

WEEK 2

Audit, align, prioritise.

Review the current multi-quarter roadmap against stated organisational objectives and available analytics, adoption, engagement, retention, satisfaction, surface the top three strategic misalignments, and prepare a prioritisation framework aligned to KPIs the business already tracks.

WEEK 3+

Ship the vision.

Present a revised product vision and a 90-day roadmap slice to senior leadership, establish a regular product review cadence, and begin the first round of structured user research to validate or challenge the backlog's underlying assumptions.

I COVER LETTER

Dear Hiring Team,

I am writing to apply for the Senior Product Manager role supporting the large-scale consumer mobile application described in your posting. With 13 years of product ownership across regulated industries, including healthcare, public-sector analytics, defence AI, insurance, and fintech, I have spent my career doing exactly what this role requires: holding product vision and long-term strategy across complex, compliance-constrained environments while empowering delivery teams to execute without being bottlenecked on every decision.

Your posting describes a situation I know well: delivery capacity is in place, but the strategic product leadership seat is open. At Rohde & Schwarz I stepped into an equivalent configuration on the FCAS defence AI platform, took ownership of a cross-functional team of fifteen engineers and data scientists, redirected the product strategy based on instrumented user-workflow analysis, and increased pipeline runs by two hundred percent. At the Bundesagentur für Arbeit I did the same for a national labour-market analytics platform: I owned the product vision, drove the ETL migration, and cut the time cost of each data update by seventy-five percent while simultaneously carrying a full UI relaunch. In both cases the delivery organisations were already running; my value was in sharpening what they were building and why.

The mobile and regulated dimensions of this role are directly in my wheelhouse. At CLINET Platforms I was Product Owner for a clinical mobile patient application on iOS and Android, piloted across hospitals. Facing a roadmap the team could not deliver, I cut it to the top ten percent of features against agreed success measures: user acceptance rose more than fivefold. I also owned the integration with the CompuGroup Medical hospital information system, reducing the digital anamnesis workflow from thirty minutes to five. The experience gave me a practical appreciation for what it means to ship in a regulated environment where patient trust and data integrity are non-negotiable constraints, not afterthoughts, directly relevant to the compliance, privacy, governance, and security requirements your posting flags.

On the strategic side, I know how to translate organisational objectives into actionable multi-quarter roadmaps with measurable outcomes and Key Performance Indicators, communicate product decisions to C-level stakeholders with clarity and evidence, and align diverse groups, technology, operations, compliance, commercial, and external partners, around a shared product vision. I hold a firm view that outcome over output is not a slogan but a discipline: I agree what success looks like before we build, instrument it, and check afterwards whether it happened.

I am based in Berlin, hold EU citizenship, and am fully willing to relocate to Abu Dhabi for an on-site engagement. I am available at four weeks' notice and would welcome a conversation about how I can bring this track record to bear on your consumer mobile product.

Best regards, Philipp Hilbert
