§ WHY AUTODESK

Forma's administration layer is the connective tissue for the entire AEC ecosystem, the part that makes collaboration between owners, architects, contractors, and trades actually work rather than just theoretically possible. The job description calls out API-first development and public CRUD APIs as a core deliverable, and that matches how I think about platform product work: the UI is one consumer, integrations are another, and the API has to serve both. What draws me to this role is the regionalization and compliance angle alongside the developer platform angle, that combination rarely appears in the same posting. That combination is where I do my best work.

§ SIDE PROJECT

CONSTRUCT8 GITHUB.COM/HILBERTP →

Two-sided B2B marketplace matching construction firms with workers, built solo from zero.

- Anonymity-until-payment model protects both sides until commitment is made.
 - WhatsApp and Telegram as the product surface, with LLM agents across the funnel.
 - Funnel and conversion analysis in SQL; one operator runs the full day-to-day.
 - Directly relevant to Forma's admin and business-relationship management focus.

§ HOW I WOULD WORK AT AUTODESK

First weeks, concrete.

WEEK 1

Listen, map, find the gaps.

Shadow workspace administrators across different Autodesk products, map the current setup flows end to end, and find where the experience breaks down or diverges across products.

WEEK 2

Identify the seams.

Pick the three biggest friction points in the admin setup experience and write a one-page problem statement for each, validated with at least one customer or internal admin persona.

WEEK 3+

Ship the first slice.

Prioritize the API surface work with engineering, define the first public endpoint's contract and success criteria, and start the cadence of weekly customer touchpoints that will feed discovery going forward.

I COVER LETTER

Dear Autodesk team,

I am applying for the Principal Product Manager role in the Forma Administration organization. The posting describes something I find interesting: building the platform layer that connects hundreds of companies across the AEC lifecycle, specifically the admin persona who configures workspaces, manages business units, and opens up integration points for the whole ecosystem.

My most relevant experience is at EMIL Group, where I owned a B2B SaaS platform used by insurers, reinsurers, and brokers. The admin and configuration surface was central to the product, each client needed different settings, custom properties, and user management. I restructured the delivery organization, shipped the Claims Center from concept to production, and cut new product launch time from months to under a week. At Rohde & Schwarz I led an API-first data platform for the FCAS programme, managed a cross-functional team of 15+ engineers and data scientists, and redirected strategy based on instrumented workflow analysis, the UI-led approach had zero clicks, so we switched to developer-code-first and pipeline runs went up 200%.

The API-first angle in this posting matters to me. I have shipped REST APIs as primary product surfaces, written interface contracts before engineering starts, and worked directly with platform consumers, both internal teams and external integrators. Regionalization and compliance work is familiar from my time at the Federal Employment Agency, where we ran ETL migrations, containerized environments, and a full UI relaunch while also maintaining Deputy IT Security Officer responsibilities.

I use Figma daily and prototype with Lovable and Claude Code. When I need to communicate a complex workflow or API contract to a non-technical stakeholder, I do not write a document, I build something they can click through.

I would welcome the chance to talk about the workspace setup experience and the public API roadmap in more detail.

Best regards, Philipp Hilbert

II CURRICULUM VITAE

§ PROFILE

Principal Product Manager and product owner with 13 years of product ownership in B2B SaaS, platform, and regulated industries. I have led API-first platform products, admin and configuration surfaces, and cross-functional teams of 15+ across public sector, insurance, defence, and healthcare. I run continuous discovery, translate complex technical constraints into clear requirements, and drive agile delivery from roadmap to launch.

§ HOW I WORK

- I leave my ego at home. I want to drive the decision, not to have the last word.
 - On a new product I spend a little to learn before spending a lot to build. Cheap experiments make expensive decisions safe(r).
 - Outcome over output. Producing something is not the achievement; it also has to fit a market, so I agree what would count as success before we build and check afterwards whether it happened.
 - I keep the whole value chain in view, not just the backlog. Defect-to-fix time is a product metric; architects and DevOps engineers build that chain, my job is to steer it into the right lanes.
